

Residential Accessory Structures

RESIDENTIAL (RE, RP-E, R-1, RP-1, RP-2) AND AGRICULTURAL (AG) ZONING DISTRICTS

GETTING STARTED

A permit is required for most accessory buildings and structures such as detached garages, carports, gazebos, and sheds. Detached accessory buildings/structures 120 sq. ft. or less do not require a permit, but are subject to the setback requirements noted in this brochure.

Permit Application & Review Process

- ❖ Contact the Department of Community Development to determine the zoning for the property, and comply with the requirements outlined in this brochure.
- ❖ Submit the following:
 - ◆ Completed Building Permit Application (available in the Department of Community Development at City Hall);
 - ◆ Legal plot plan drawn to scale that shows property lines & dimensions, existing buildings and structures, the size and location of the proposed structure, setbacks, utility easements, and rights-of-way. Contact a Customer Service Representative at (913) 477-7500 for more information;
 - ◆ Construction drawings and details as required;
 - ◆ Any additional information required to clarify materials, colors, etc.
- ❖ If complete, applications for detached accessory structures will be reviewed and the applicant will be contacted when the review is complete.
- ❖ The building permit fee is due at the time the permit is issued.

GENERAL ZONING REQUIREMENTS

The following general requirements apply to all residential accessory buildings and structures:

Floor Area: Unless otherwise provided in this brochure, the total floor area of any 1 accessory building or structure, with the exception of bonafide agricultural structures, which includes buildings and structures used strictly for the housing of farm equipment, cattle or horse, hay, etc., shall not exceed the total ground floor area of the dwelling unit, inclusive of any attached garages. The total ground floor area of all accessory buildings and structures shall be in compliance with zoning district open space requirements.

Height: Maximum height is 25 feet.

Rear Yard: Generally, accessory structures and buildings must be located in the rear yard, except as noted in the following sections.

Parcels larger than 1 acre: On parcels which are larger than 1 acre, the Community Development Director may permit residential accessory buildings and structures to be located within the front yard area, but behind the required front and side setback lines, where the principal structures within the established neighborhood generally maintain greater setbacks, or other similar design diversity has been established. Such buildings and structures shall be constructed of quality materials and designed to be architecturally compatible with the dwelling unit.

Appearance: Residential accessory buildings and structures larger than 200 sq. ft. in area shall be constructed of quality materials and compatible in design and character with the dwelling unit.
